A Charge Account at Macy's is very different from the usual "credit-and-debt" charge account; just as Macy's prices are very different from higher prices for similar quality merchandise elsewhere.

Combine the economy of Macy's lowest-in-the-city prices for reliable merchandise, with the convenience of a Charge Account; in other words, shop with a Macy Deposit Account.

The 2% dividend on the net amount of your Deposit Account purchases for the year in profit sharing pure and simple. This is in addition to the 4% interest, compounded quarterly, which we allow on your daily balance with us while your money is lying on deposit.

When you buy at Macy's and charge your purchases up to your Deposit Account, you are not only paying lowest-in-the-city prices, but in addition you are sharing in the profits on what you buy.

20,000 satisfied customers who received their dividend checks last month are testifying to this. Did you get yours? If not, why not begin now?

CHESTER W. CHAPIN IS SUED BY A WIDOW

Her Lawyer Won't Tell Why and His Lawyer Says He Doesn't Know.

SENTIMENT IS HINTED AT

Or Perhaps the Suit Is About Bonds, the Defendant Having Both.

Chester W. Chapin, who six years ago, when he was 65 years old, married his cousin, Elizabeth Jenison Chapin, then 25, has been served with a summons in a civil suit brought by Mrs. Jane H. Phillips, a widow. Mr. Chapin has filed notice of appearance in the suit and Mrs. Phillips will have until January 15 to file her complaint. Until then it is improbable that the nature of the suit will be disclosed. None of those concerned would discuss it yesterday at any length.

Edgar N. Dillin is the attorney for Mrs. Phillips. He declined to say where his client could be found.

"She is not an actress or a society woman," said Mr. Dillin. "She is not a young woman either, and I don't think either she or Mr. Chapin would like publicity in the matter. We have plenty of time to file our complaint, and I'm going to take the time allowed. The complaint may never be filed."

"Do you mean that you think Mr. Chapin may try to settle?"

"He might, but I don't care to discuss the case further than to say much of our evidence is documentary, and when it is produced it will be interesting to see how an aged millionaire expresses himself in his sentimental relations."

Timothy A. Leahy filed the notice of appearance for Mr. Chapin, and he said he wasn't familiar with the cause for action in the suit.

"I might speculate on it," he said, "but that wouldn't be fair to my client. It may be the result of a large transaction in bonds." Chapin was just driving up his span of sorrels when a reporter called at his house, 331 West End Avenue, yesterday afternoon. Horses have always been his hobby, and in June, 1909, he had a runaway, after which one of his horses, which had cost him $1,000, had to be shot. Mr. Chapin wouldn't disclose the suit.

Chapin, 70, inherited about $100,000 from his father, who died in 1883. The son built up the New Haven steamboat line, became president of the Connecticut Railroad, and afterward formed a metallurgical and lines making in the Boston and Albany area, and became president. He also founded the Chapin Trust Company of Springfield, Mass., and was largely interested in the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, the Agawam Canal, the Collins Paper Company and other large enterprises. He is now retired, he maintains an office at 320 Fifth Avenue, where he looks after his own investments.

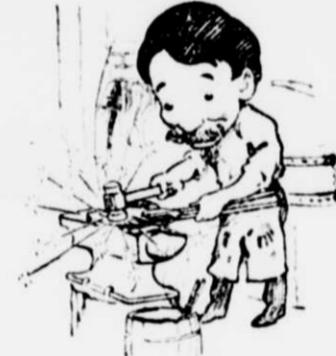

The present Mrs. Chapin is his second wife. He has a daughter who has been married twice, the first time to the Marquis de la Tour du Pin-Lillard. The first Mrs. Chapin got a divorce and is still alive.

Mr. Chapin has a 10,000 acre hunting and fishing preserve near Lebanon, Sullivan county. He belongs to the Metropolitan, the New York Yacht, the Larchmont Yacht, the American Yacht, the Yacht Club, the New York Athletic Club, the New England Society, the American Museum of Natural History and the Suburban Riding and Driving Club.
